

Marking @ Melbury

At Melbury we use 'live marking' to enable us to provide children with quick and immediate feedback on their learning.

Teachers give verbal feedback and mark aspects of the work pupils are completing in lessons, every child will receive 'live marking' feedback at least once a week in the core subjects of English and Maths.

When feedback has taken place a tick will be placed next to the learning objective.

If a child completes all of their maths work and has understood what they have to do, then they should be given a challenge. This should be highlighted as stated above, whether or not it is achieved.
